Stewardship Message

"I give you a new commandment: love one another. As I have loved you, so you also should love one another."(John 13:34)
It is easy to love someone when they love you back. But it takes strength and courage to love someone when we feel unappreciated, used or that our opinion doesn't matter. It takes courage to "love my neighbor" when he may be someone I don't like, someone I don't know or someone that doesn't look like me.

Every day-Every way Stewards

That we have the courage to love someone that we don't like, don't know or who doesn't look like me.

Stewardship

The month of May is Local Parish Stewardship Month. May is an opportunity to take some time in the days and weeks ahead to reflect on the following question: "Lord, what do You want me to do with all the gifts You have given me?"

When many of us hear the word "stewardship," we often think it is all about money. That is not the case. Stewardship is all about doing what God wants us to do with the gifts He has given us. The challenge is that we cannot know what God wants from us unless we spend time every day communicating with God.

Stewardship of Time, Talent and Treasure:

Time is... Talking to God in Prayer, Attending Mass and services, assisting with parish activities, investing in community activities, being present to family and friends.

Talent is... Being a lector or usher, serving on a committee, leading a specific ministry, teaching to instruct and inspire, witnessing and evangelizing.

Treasure is... A planned, up-front decision to give, in grateful response to our blessings, sacrificial and without reservation.

Meditation

"Love is the only power that opens hearts to the words of Jesus and to the grace of Redemption."

Homily of John Paul II, May 10, 1999

We have just heard the words of Christ which Saint John has left us in his Gospel. The Lord addressed them to the disciples in the Farewell Discourse before His Passion and Death on the Cross, at the moment when He washed the Apostles' feet. It is virtually His final cry to humanity, in which He gives voice to a burning desire: "That you love one another!"

These words of Christ emanate great power. When He died on the Cross in His terrible Passion, humiliated and abandoned, He showed to the whole world the full meaning and depth of such trials. Watching Christ's agony, the disciples came to realize what it was He had called them to when He said: "Love one another as I have loved you." In recording the event, Saint John would write in his Gospel: "Having loved His own who were in the world, He loved them to the end" (13:1). Christ loved us first of all, loved us despite our sinfulness and our human weakness. It was He who ensured that we became worthy of His love which knows no bounds and never ends. It is a love which is absolute and most perfect.

Christ has in fact redeemed us with His Precious Blood. To us too He has taught this love and to us He has entrusted it: "A new commandment I give you" ... This commandment is always pertinent. If we wish to respond to the love of Christ, we must respect its demands always, regardless of time and place: it must be for man a new way, a new seed which renews relations between people. This love makes us... heirs of the divine promises. It ensures that we all become brothers and sisters in the Lord. It makes of us the new People of God, the Church in which we must love Christ and in Him love each other in turn.

This is the true love which shows itself in the Cross of Christ. We must all look to this Cross; toward it we must direct our desires and our efforts. In the Cross, we have the greatest of all models to imitate.
